

COVID-19 Liability Understanding

There is always inherent risk in participating in any activity. Due to the circumstances created by COVID-19, there is a heightened degree of personal risk and responsibility. IWF Colorado will be taking all prudent and advisable measures to reduce the risk of virus/illness transmission between people while at the conference. Despite our best efforts, we will be unable to reduce the level of risk to zero.

- 1) I acknowledge these risks, and others, and agree to take full personal responsibility for them. I will not hold anyone else accountable should I contract an illness or should anything else happen to me during my participation at the conference.
- 2) I agree to monitor my own health status and will not attend the conference if I am symptomatic in any way or if I believe I have been exposed to someone with COVID-19.
- 3) I understand that all participants may be asked to participate in CDC-recommended protocols such as temperature screening before being allowed into the conference center, mask wearing, keeping distance from other participants, etc. I understand and agree to comply with federal/state and/or local laws as they dictate use of these practices. These regulations may become more or less strict at any time between now and the conference due to circumstances beyond anyone's control.
